

Himmelfahrtskommando El Alamein / Mit Eichenlaub und Schwertern / Commandos

Genre Abenteuer / Action
Year of Production 1968
Production-Companies P.E.C. (Rom), C.C.I. (Rom),
CCC Filmkunst GmbH
Producer Agostino Sansone, Artur Brauner
Director Armando Crispino
Main Cast Lee Van Cleef, Jack Kelly,
Joachim Fuchsberger
Script Lucio Battistrada, Agostino Crispino, Stefano Strucchi und Dario Argento nach einem Stoff
von Don Martin und Artur Brauner
Music Mario Nascimbene
Colour
Length/Format 112 Min., 1:2,35
DVD

Ein italienisch verkleideter Trupp von Amerikanern erobert das Lager der Italiener in El-Alamein und hält die Täuschung auch dann noch aufrecht, als die Deutschen zu Besuch kommen und die italienisch-deutsche Freundschaft feucht-fröhlich begießen.

Sgt. Sullivan puts together a group of Italian-Americans and disguises them as Italian soldiers in order to infiltrate a North African camp held by the Italians. After the soldiers have knifed the Italians in their beds, they find a hooker living at the camp. Sullivan's commandos are to hold this camp and its weaponry until an American battalion arrives, all the while these Italian-Americans pretend to be Italian soldiers, often hosting the enemy. Lt. Valli is a young, green, by-the-book officer who constantly argues with Sgt. Sullivan, who tells his superior that he has no idea what he is doing. One man on the base is an entomologist who is needlessly killed. Things go terribly wrong after that.

